

The Next Generation of Scientists in Regenerative Medicine
May 6-7 2014 at Yasuragi Hasseludden

Tuesday May 6, 2014

All day in room Fuji

Travel on your own to Yasuragi Hasseludden. For directions see below.

- 08.00 – 09.00 Breakfast
- 09.00 – 09.10 Yōkoso!
Matti Nikkola and Cecilia Götherström
- 09.10 – 10.10 Short research presentations
Moderator: Rachael Sugars
- 09.10 – 09.30 Robert Månsson, Department of Laboratory Medicine
Transcriptional regulation in B-cell development.
- 09.30 – 09.50 Igor Adameyko, Department of Physiology and Pharmacology
Peripheral glial cells are multipotent stem cells riding the innervation.
- 09.50 – 10.10 Julian Walfridsson, Department of Medicine
Discovery of potential drug targets in acute myeloid leukemia.
- 10.10 – 10.40 Coffee
- 10.40 – 12.00 Short research presentations
Moderator: Nina Heldring
- 10.40 – 11.00 Christian Göritz, Department of Cell and Molecular Biology
CNS scarring and repair.
- 11.00 – 11.20 Evren Alici, Department of Medicine
Dysfunctions in Natural Killer cells and strategies to restore their anti tumor activity in hematological malignancies.
- 11.20 – 11.40 Fredrik Lanner, Department of Clinical Science Intervention and Technology
Exploring lineage specification and pluripotency in the preimplantation embryo.

12.00 – 13.15	Lunch in Tokyo
13.15 – 13.30	Information on spa procedures
13.30 – 14.30	Key Note Lecture Stephen Strom, Department of Laboratory Medicine Thoughts on a 20+ Year Career in Regenerative Medicine. Moderator: Cecilia Götherström
14.30 – 15.00	Coffee
15.00 – 16.30	Short research presentations Moderator: Karl-Henrik Grinnemo
15.00 – 15.20	Elisabet Åkesson, Department of Neurobiology, Care Sciences & Society Human spinal cord injury in the lab.
15.20 – 15.40	Anna Falk, Department of Neuroscience The role of neural stem cells in neurodevelopmental disorders.
15.40 – 16.00	Kenny Rodriquez-Wallberg, Department of Clinical Science Intervention and Technology Fertility preservation: A clinical and translational research project.
16.00 – 16.20	Hong Qian, Department of Medicine Molecular and functional characterization of native mesenchymal stem cells from bone marrow.
16.30	Check-in to hotel rooms and recreation
19.00	Secret surprise by the Student Committee
20.00	Dinner in Tokyo
22:00	Ask the Sensei Session - Q and A Moderators: Cecilia Götherström and Caroline Gavin Panel: Urban Lendahl, Sebastian Sjöqvist, Karl-Henrik Grinnemo, Nina Heldring, Christer Sylvén, Evren Alici, Lena von Bahr, Jacob Kjell

Wednesday May 7, 2014

- | | |
|----------------------|--|
| 08.00 – 09.00 | Breakfast in Tokyo (check out before 09.00) |
| 09.00 – 10.00 | Short research presentations by doctoral students
Breakout rooms: see attached list. |
| 10.00 – 10.30 | Coffee |
| 10.30 – 12.00 | Short research presentations by doctoral students
Breakout rooms: see attached list. |
| 12.00 – 13.00 | Lunch in Tokyo |
| | Departure (on your own) |

Yōkoso!

How to get to Yasuragi Hasseludden

Travelling by car

From Stockholm (20 minutes):

Take Värmdöleden (road 222) towards Gustavsberg. One kilometre after the Skuru bridge, take the exit to Orminge/Lännersta. Take the viaduct over the highway. Pass Orminge center and take the first left and follow the signs towards Hasseludden. Free parking at the premises. GPS coordinates: N 59° 20' 44", E 18° 14' 25".

Travelling by public transportation

From Stockholm (35 minutes):

There are several buses going to Hasseludden from Slussen (ex 445). Advise www.sl.se for the appropriate bus. Change to bus 417 at Orminge center to Hasseludden. Depart at Hamndalsvägen. Now it is a 5-10 minute walk to Yasuragi Hasseludden.

Boat

From Stockholm (30 minutes):

You can also travel to Yasuragi Hasseludden by boat. Advise www.waxholmsbolaget.se for a time table.

General information:

- There is free wireless Internet at Hasseludden (ask for codes in the reception).
- Yasuragi Hasseludden has an amazing spa, so bring your swimming clothes!
- The surroundings are very beautiful, so take the chance to take explore the area either by running or walking.

Hasseludden

Adress: Hamndalsvägen 6, Saltsjö-Boo.

Tel: 08-747 64 00

Email: privat@yasuragi.se

<http://www.yasuragi.se>

If you have any questions, please contact:

Matti Nikkola or Cecilia Götherström